

Save Old Nichols Library

Petition published by Barbara Hower on May 13, 2017

Background (Preamble):

The purpose of this petition is to prevent the demolition of the historic building located at 110 S. Washington Street, Naperville, IL (the former Nichols Library building).

This building is within the National Register of Historic Places district, established in 1977. In fact, all of Naperville's downtown area falls into that category. Covenant restrictions were placed on the old library façade and Washington Street entrance foyer, in perpetuity, when the city of Naperville sold the building to a church in 1995.

In 1895 prominent Naperville businessman James L. Nichols bequeathed money to build a library for the town-ultimately known as Nichols Library. Nichols left $10,000 to the city "for the purpose of purchasing a suitable lot within the corporate limits of the city and erecting thereon a suitable library building, said building to be used for a public, free reading room and library by the inhabitants of the city." It was to be used for this purpose alone and if diverted to other purposes it was to revert to the estate. The bequest was contingent upon the city council's acceptance of these terms. The City council approved establishing a public library on May 7, 1897.

The architect was Mifflin Emlen (M. E.) Bell. He was the supervising architect for the U.S. Treasury Department and planned the courthouse at Wheaton, IL. He was a member of the Joint Commission to Complete the Washington Monument; his name is engraved on the north face of the monument's capstone. He also was in charge of federal buildings at the 1893 World's Columbian Exposition in Chicago.

Petition Text:

We, the undersigned, call on the City of Naperville to refrain from any demolition or alteration of the historic Nichols Library Building in Naperville, IL.

We ask that nothing further progress with the proposed redevelopment of the old Nichols Library Building until a more suitable solution can be reached to preserve this historic building. Mayor Chirico and the Naperville City Council: you have the authority to prevent the demolition or alterations of this building, which is an integral piece of the fabric of Naperville. We stand united in hopes that you would provide a forum to facilitate the preservation of this property.

Absolutely do NOT tear down this historic building. Its one of the few things left that makes Naperville charming and not like all other average towns.

The library, and buildings like it, give Naperville a good deal of its charm. Once gone it cannot be replaced. I think removing it is short sighted.

No one in this generation has the right to tear down history. In a few decades you will be long forgotten, therefore the building is far more valuable than your "ideas".

There are both historic and sentimental reasons to save this landmark building. Personally, this was my library while I was in high school. It is foundational to our city. There definite ways to repurpose this building to keep the old and integrate the new.

It would be a travesty to destroy this wonderful piece of historic Naperville. Bit by bit we are losing the essence of our City and to take this away would hang heavy on the hearts of so many past and present Naperville residents. Follow the covenant restrictions as bequeathed by James L. Nichols.

Downtown Naperville stands to lose an absolute treasure if the Old Nichols is demolished. What a desecration of the town's history and the legacy of learning and enlightenment that Old Nichols represents. I sure hope that this time around greed does not trump history and aesthetic integrity. The generations of Naperville residents and visitors who benefited from Old Nichols, and those of us who've been drawn to its unique elegance and charm, deserve to be listened to.

1223 Jacalyn Green

It is crucial that Naperville preserve this historic building. The commercial development of downtown Naperville makes it just like many other affluent suburbs. Nichols Library is a unique part of Naperville's history. We are a city known for educational excellence, Why would we demolish a landmark that provided educational opportunities for its early residents? Businesses come and go, and the new buildings that house them can be seen everywhere in this country.

1203 lisa Himmel

Back to signature list

Please do not tear down this building. I remember going to the old library when I was a student at Naper and Washington Jr High. So much has changed in town since then, but every time I see the Old Nichols building it brings me back. I'm all for progress, but if we keep destroying our history we destroy the heart and soul of our city.

1202 Betsy Maaks

I would like to see this building put into public use via the city or park district. We currently have plenty of retail/office space available (to the point of many vacancies) and letting this property be commercially developed does a disservice to the town and its residents.

1172 Pete Zhao

The library is a part of Naperville history. Simply put, a hundred years from now I want my grandchildren and great-grandchildren have the opportunity looking at a piece of history instead of a whole bunch of commercial stores and/or residential properties. Please have foresight and preserve this!

1171 Ronald Stenger

Back to signature list

My family, the Stenger's built a majestic 3 story stone building known as the J & N Stenger Brewery in the mid 1800's which stood until the mid-1950's. I remember spending hours in Nichols Library as a child. My 6-year old granddaughter always loves to look at the small model in the current library downtown. She asks questions about the design and asks why the current library doesn't look the same. I tell her "...those we're the good old days!" Please keep the one remaining "good old days" building downtown so we still have a tie to our storied Naperville history. Put it to good community use, please! I know there are many Napervilleans past and present who wish the same.

As a long-time Naperville resident, I enjoyed Nichols as a library. Its historic beauty is not something that can be duplicated. Stores and shops come and go, this is not a building that can be replicated. How it is used -- as a restaurant or retail is better than tearing it down. Please preserve it.

I spent many happy hours choosing and browsing books at the old library and so did my two kids -- since 1975 when we first moved to Naperville and before the new one was built. PLEASE don't tear it down -- I am sure there is something useful it could be used for -- like the old post office down the street from it -which shares space with Naperville Bank and Trust.??

1143 Sheila Clark

Save this old, historic building. We don't need more shops and we don't need more condos or apartments in downtown Naperville.

1138 Kristin Schultz

Back to signature list

C'mon. Historic sites are what makes this downtown so appealing. Is not just the stores and restaurants- it's the fact that everything is so beautiful and storied. Why would you tear down such a beautiful building? Residents and patrons would love to grace the halls of this building in a great new capacity. Perhaps (yet another) restaurant?? Or proprietary gathering place. Wedding hall?? Be smart about this. The only thing not bland about Naperville is the historic district. Keep it historic!

1135 Paige Kelly

Back to signature list

This is a beautiful building that adds so much to the character of downtown. It is clearly not being used to its full potential currently. But it could be something wonderful.

1130 Mark Dickinson

Back to signature list

I wish the city and residents understood that a major reason why Naperville cannot attract and retain young, creative, interesting people is because the city lacks walkable neighborhoods with nice historic buildings. Too many historic homes and buildings have been torn down already. This building should be saved.

1129 Amber Kachiroubas

Back to signature list

It is a shame the city which is known for such excellent education wants to remove a our library. This does not only effect our children, but us adults and all the future families that all want to move to Naperville for such wonderful education. It is also a shame that our downtown Naperville wants to become a huge shopping mall. We need our library, especially our historic library

1126 Kelli Cobuzio

Back to signature list

We love this library and use it on a weekly basis. This library is a part of Naperville's charm and one of the reasons so many children succeed and have a great education.

1125 Dee Bratton

Back to signature list

Too many historical buildings are torn down in the spirit of progress. If we continue on this course of action, future generations will suffer because they will lose sight of their roots. Do we want this to be our legacy ?? I, for one, do not.

I have lived in Naperville from infancy to 22 years and moved back when I was 34 years old. I have used my local library my entire 40 years and remember the Nichols Library when it resides in the Washington St building. I would love to see the building facade stay intact and be used for something good for the City of Naperville. Perhaps a learning center, museum or some other civic or community center. There is no reason to destroy it or demolish it. Please save this positive part of our city's architectural history.

1099 Jeanette Golk

Our history deserves to be preserved. The beauty and wonder in European cities lies in the historical buildings, if we, as a country, continue to discount that value, we will have nothing to show for how far we have come as a country. The desire to constantly make things new is a disgrace.

At what expense is new construction to the city? Is the city selling out? YES. The huge construction project going on in downtown Naperville at this very moment is obscene. Now the Nichols Library is in danger. There is a way to save this historical landmark....the city just has to want to at all costs. Come on....have some pride in the history of this town. Before we know it all of downtown will be brand new. When we first moved here we were (and still are) grateful that we found a home that is proud of its roots..a place with character and a vision of the past looking towards the future. This future allows for a pride that it will keep its heritage in tact.

Whenever I come to my hometown of Naperville, I fondly recall the graceful beauty of Nichols Library. Please save what little historical architecture we have left. During my childhood this library was one of my favorite places. I can't imagine destroying this wonderful building (or the part that says Nichols Library) and the many memories which go along with it. I would think there could be a way to use the building with at least the exterior intact. Every time I return to visit Naperville (which is often) I see where many older residences are bought, destroyed and huge new homes built. It is very sad as newer is not always better. There is something still to be said for the classics and reminiscing. Naperville has modernized so much, lets keep some places intact.

Progress is sometimes a great thing but the "small town" feel is what I love about Naperville. Though underutilized for many years, I still recall many fond memories of the library from the 60's and 70's every time I drive by. 978 Dawn Milani

973 Marianne Springer

When we moved to Naperville in 1982, the Nichols library was our haven. We felt secure, as strangers new to the city, whenever we entered the library doors because libraries are universal. Nichols was a cozy, happy place to take my youngsters as they made friends with other children from the community. They have still very fond memories of the beautiful antique structure and you would be doing a disservice to the history of the precious beginnings of downtown Naperville. This isn't a change you can reverse, and the historical draw will be more positive in the long run without a doubt. Naperville has a historical background that is currently under appreciated, don't look back and wish you'd made a different decision.

On my way to rehearsals/concerts at North Central College, I often parked adjacent to this beautiful building. Attention City of Naperville. Please do not make the same mistake as countless towns who demolished many of their historic buildings by using the lame excuse cited as, "progress". This word honors the past; it does not destroy it for the sake of new structures built at enormous expense, for no apparent reason other than to line someone's pockets. We should be better than this!

We don't have that many historic buildings left on Washington.

James Lawrence Nichols was born in Germany in 1851. He emigrated to the United States at the age of 6, was orphaned at 8, and then worked from farm to farm. Eventually, he taught himself English and by age 19 secured a certificate to teach others. Once completing his education at North Central College, he served for one year as principal of Naperville's public schools. In 1883, Nichols was appointed Principal of the Commercial Department of the College where he taught for eight years. After his success in writing and publishing several books on business, in 1891 he launched J.L. Nichols & Co. in Naperville. Early hardships left him in poor health and he died in August 1895 at the age of 44. Among his bequests, he left $10,000 to Naperville, newly organized as a city, to establish a library, so that no child would be without books as he had been. Wisely, Nichols made certain that his legacy would be cared for. His gift was contingent on the city's agreement to maintain the library, supply its materials and provide employees, ensuring that residents could continue to use its library.

This is such a beautiful landmark, and it is so special for the kids growing up to look at the replica at the current Nichols library and then be able to see it down the street. I think tours should be given as a hub for historical, beautiful downtown Naperville. Please keep it!

835 Diane Herr

Back to signature list

I live one mile west of Naperville, go to church off Central Park which the Old Nichols library backs up to. It's a nice collection of old, historic buildings which should stay together.

834 Jeannette DiGiovine

Back to signature list

Please do not alter the exterior of this building. This building is a part of OUR history and should no way become the homogenized building of a strip mall. My kids love to glance at the mini Nichols library. I remember walking within the books of Nichols Library and discovering Anne Frank among many other treasures. Nichols Library is Naperville. When you think of Naperville It is an integral part of our town so much as the Riverwalk, Centennial Beach, and the Naper Settlement. We must preserve our history. It is how we reflect, and maintain the tradition and the integrity of Naperville.

833 Bertha Baillie

Back to signature list

Please DO NOT get rid if the old Nichols Library!

832 Janice Podolski

Back to signature list

Save our Library. I studied in it when I was in graduate school. It has always stood for Naperville's commitment to learning. That and it's commitment to the high quality of our schools were major reasons why so many people chose to live in our great city.

826 Susan Greenwood

798 Robert Brubaker

Back to signature list

I currently live in Arkansas where I teach history at the university level, but my family still resides in Naperville where I grew up. Much of that growing up actually happened in the old Nichols Library, and I was very saddened to hear about current plans for the structure when I arrived home for a visit two days ago. How about using this structure as a historical museum rather than demolishing it? The library would be a perfect venue for such a purpose (and, having lived in Naperville for the first 30 years of my life and seen the changes in the ensuing 24 years, I can't help but question whether Naperville actually needs yet more high-end housing and shops). Thank you for reading my comments. Sincerely, Robert Brubaker (Burr Oaks, Lisle Township).

In the mid-seventies, Naperville was a tiny little town with little to offer, but it had a fabulous old stone library where I and other children spent many happy hours. Surely the building can be saved for some other purpose and deserves better than demolition.

780 Heather Leslie

It's a shame that the terms of the sale from 1995 didn't go further to protect this building. Aside from the sentimental memories of current and former Naperville residents old enough to remember the Nichols Library (myself included), this building is an important part of Naperville's history. This building has more value than its facade.

720 James Green

Back to signature list

Along with the First Congregational Church building, Old Main at North Central and perhaps a couple of others, Nichols Library stands among a handful of the most historically significant buildings in Naperville--THE most significant PUBLIC building, in fact, and above all others in architectural pedigree. It is the most significant echo in the business district of the town's early history and community life. How is Naperville's civic life served by the proposed erasure of that history demolishing this building represents? What rationale, likely financial in nature, has been offered to support this willed amnesia? Whatever it is, who dares call it sufficient or deems this planned demolition a form of progress?

719 Cheryl Kinsman

I was raised in Naperville and although I live in Oswego, I work down Naperville and as a realtor. As much as I would love more homes to sell, we are losing what makes Naperville the draw it is when we take away it's history. Nichols Library is a landmark. Don't move it, build over it or tear it down... There is more to Naperville than how many people we can fit downtown.

510 Kursten Minnis

Naperville has gone from being a lovely quaint city to bulldozing whatever is in their way to make it bigger and to bring in more money$$$$$$$$$. Too bad they are so anxious to tear down beautiful historical buildings. I think this building was built with stone from the quarry-centennial beach in town.... will that be the next project - fill it in and build more multi million dollar mansions that sit empty for years because people can't afford them. History is part of the charm of Naperville and it is slowly being eroded by poor development decisions. The city councils has to stop destroying this town. Bigger and newer is NOT better for Naperville.

473 Peggy Hoppenrath Thompson

Back to signature list

Sorry to say that from what I read, the current political regime in Naperville is only interested in revenue, not history. This building is one of the last recognizable landmarks in downtown Naperville, and it would be a shame to have it disappear forever. Naperville is not the same, neighbor friendly town I grew up in -- it seems the higher powers that be (and some are lifetime residents) are power hungry and financially motivated to keep building downtown. Please keep this landmark!!!

If covenant restrictions and terms of donations can be overturned just because time has passed or one party has decided that they no longer want to abide by them, they become, in the aggregate, meaningless. Not only is this building worth saving on its own merits, to allow it to be demolished in violation of the aforementioned agreements calls into question all such agreements and, indeed, all contracts. Please, Mayor Chirico and elected officials, stand up for preservation...and the rule of law.

Sincerely,

P.K. VanderBeke

Please don't destroy this beautiful building! It is a work of art. I don't understand why the powers that be find it necessary to erase all evidence of the past in Naperville. Instead, you would be wise to cherish and preserve as much as possible. My family and I share a long history with Naperville. I grew up there, as did my siblings, my father and his siblings. My great grandparents settled there in the late 1800's. We, as well as many others have fond memories of Nichols Library. Please reconsider what you are planning to do.

256 Andrew Cole

Back to signature list

I am from Naperville (arrived in 1977) and my parents still live here. Citizens of Naperville need to LOBBY FOR BETTER ZONING AND CODES and the city council needs to support these efforts, making downtown a HISTORIC DISTRICT with real protections because the national historic registry has no teeth or enforcement. Citizens must mobilize to create awareness about the problem throughout the city AND pressure council members to create a historic district to protect the downtown and outlying neighborhoods, and if said council doesn't, they get voted out, which includes the mayor. Naperville deserves a mayor and a council who care about this town's history and who know what historic preservation ACTUALLY ENTAILS, which isn't the destruction of old, much beloved structures like this. this has gone on long enough in Naperville.

253 Gary Fry

Back to signature list

I grew up in Naperville. My mother, Miriam Fry, was the head librarian at Nichols Library from 1950-1984. I have many fond memories of the old library building. To me it helps define the character of downtown Naperville. It would be a shame to lose that character. Please do all you can to help preserve it.

235 Nancy Stagg

Back to signature list

The history of Naperville is disappearing, please save the old Nichols Library. The building is within the National Register of Historic Places and the beauty and character of the building blends beautifully in any cities landscape. Our European neighbors have managed to beautifully preserve their buildings in their cities. Why can't American cities do the same? Why can't Naperville preserve their heritage? It is written that if diverted to other purposes it was to revert to the estate. Descendants of James L. Nichols have signed this petition; that alone should be enough to stop the demolition of the library. Their wishes should be honored, along with every signature on this petition.

New ideas often need old buildings.

233 Martha Ch

Back to signature list

Please keep the Nichols Library as a historic building. You will ruin the charm and character of the downtown if you destroy it. Your giant hotels and other buildings are already threatening to remove any small town charm the city previously had.

228 Sally Wakasugi

Back to signature list

I grew up in Naperville and frequently visited Nichols Library. When I moved to Japan in 1982, I never dreamed that wonderful building wouldn't be preserved in the Heritage Village if ever it was no longer useful in town. Don't destroy an important part of our history! Please save Nichols Library!

227 Sally Bailly

Back to signature list

First book I ever checked out was at Nichols library. The old main room is perfect- just as a library should be, this is an historical gem that should be preserved.

224 Wendy Thompson

Back to signature list

To destroy something so beautiful for the purpose of a shopping area is terrible. It's on the historic register, right? How can this happen. That should protect it. To bulldoze that beautiful piece of architecture would be a travesty. Couldn't it still be turned into some form of shopping and save the structure and things on the inside. There could be some form of agreement to come to.

The Nichols Library (original) building is an important piece of Naperville's history, and my own memories of growing up in Naperville. Too much has already been destroyed by allowing the "McMansions" to be built on lots far to small and spoiling the original neighborhoods. Thankful my childhood home is still standing, although surrounded by these monstrosities. Do not allow the same thing to happen downtown. Thank you very much.

Downtown Naperville has lost so much of what made it such a fantastic place to grow up in and raise a family. The library is a unique and historic landmark that deserves to be preserved for future generations.

The Old Nichols Library is a landmark! Why demolish it? What will replace it, just another commercial chain store or another characterless building? Come on, Naperville, have a little sense of history.

This historic library was part of the fabric of Naperville. We took etiquette classes there in the 60s and ballroom dancing. Almost everything I grew up with there is non-existent now including my home, the fox hunt fields and the charm.

I am a native of Naperville, and my family, who helped settle this town, arrived here in 1830. My family has used Nichols Library since it was founded. When I went to the Library the Director was Matey Eggerman, and she ran a very tight ship. She would turn over in her grave if she knew what may happen to her library. My brother and sisters and I all went to the library for study. My children (Givler kids) all used the library. The architecture is beautiful and would be a damned shame if it were destroyed for "progress" (?)

PLEASE SAVE THE NICHOLS LIBRARY!!!!!! Pay heed to the caveat that James Nichols attached to that building, i.e. that if it were to be used for anything else, it will revert to the Nichols Estate. Honor that man and his legacy.

81 Judith Powers

This building IS old Naperville. As a library it was the center of intellectual life from the time it was built, and should never, ever be destroyed or altered. If the owner won't comply, the city should purchase the building and the land around it and preserve it for all time.

The money to build this was a gift to the city of Naperville. It should not be demolished even if a part of the facade and vestibule are re-used. It is one of the most beautiful buildings to ever grace Naperville. I was raised in Naperville, 5th generation. I spent many happy hours in the Nichols Library. Shame on the current Mayor, that grew up in Naperville for being so nonchalant is his attitude towards the demolition.

SAVE OLD NICHOLS LIBRARY PETITION

The purpose of this petition is to prevent demolition of the historic building located at 110 S. Washington Street, Naperville, IL (the former Nichols Library building).

This building is within the National Register of Historic Places district, established 1977. Covenant restrictions were placed on the old library facade and Washington Street entrance foyer, in perpetuity, when the city of Naperville sold the building to a church in 1995.

In 1895, prominent Naperville businessman James L. Nichols bequeathed money to build a library for the town—ultimately known as Nichols Library. Nichols left $10,000 to the city "for the purpose of purchasing a suitable lot within the corporate limits of the city and erecting thereon a suitable library building, said building to be used for a public, free reading room and library by the inhabitants of the city." It was to be used for this purpose alone and if diverted to other purposes it was to revert to the estate. The bequest was contingent upon the city council's acceptance of these terms. The City council approved establishing a public library on May 7, 1897.

The architect was Mifflin Emlen (M.E.) Bell. He was the supervising architect for the U.S. Treasury Department and planned the courthouse at Wheaton, IL. He was a member of the Joint Commission to Complete the Washington Monument; his name is engraved on the north face of the monument's capstone. He also oversaw federal buildings at the 1893 World's Columbian Exposition in Chicago.

We, the undersigned, call on the City of Naperville to refrain from any demolition or alteration of the historic Nichols Library Building in Naperville, IL.

We ask that nothing further progress with the proposed redevelopment of the old Nichols Library Building until a more suitable solution can be reached to preserve this historic building. Mayor Chirico and the Naperville City Council: you have the authority to prevent the demolition or alterations of this building, which is an integral piece of the fabric of Naperville. We stand united in hopes that you would provide a forum to facilitate the preservation of this property.

This building is within the National Register of Historic Places district, established 1977. Covenant restrictions were placed on the old library facade and Washington Street entrance foyer, in perpetuity, when the city of Naperville sold the building to a church in 1995.

In 1895, prominent Naperville businessman James L. Nichols bequeathed money to build a library for the town—ultimately known as Nichols Library. Nichols left $10,000 to the city "for the purpose of purchasing a suitable lot within the corporate limits of the city and erecting thereon a suitable library building, said building to be used for a public, free reading room and library by the inhabitants of the city." It was to be used for this purpose alone and if diverted to other purposes it was to revert to the estate. The bequest was contingent upon the city council's acceptance of these terms. The City council approved establishing a public library on May 7, 1897.

The architect was Mifflin Emlen (M.E.) Bell. He was the supervising architect for the U.S. Treasury Department and planned the courthouse at Wheaton, IL. He was a member of the Joint Commission to Complete the Washington Monument; his name is engraved on the north face of the monument's capstone. He also oversaw federal buildings at the 1893 World's Columbian Exposition in Chicago.

We, the undersigned, call on the City of Naperville to refrain from any demolition or alteration of the historic Nichols Library Building in Naperville, IL.

We ask that nothing further progress with the proposed redevelopment of the old Nichols Library Building until a more suitable solution can be reached to preserve this historic building. Mayor Chirico and the Naperville City Council: you have the authority to prevent the demolition or alterations of this building, which is an integral piece of the fabric of Naperville. We stand united in hopes that you would provide a forum to facilitate the preservation of this property.

SAVE OLD NICHOLS LIBRARY PETITION

The purpose of this petition is to prevent demolition of the historic building located at 110 S. Washington Street, Naperville, IL (the former Nichols Library building).

This building is within the National Register of Historic Places district, established 1977. Covenant restrictions were placed on the old library facade and Washington Street entrance foyer, in perpetuity, when the city of Naperville sold the building to a church in 1995.

In 1895, prominent Naperville businessman James L. Nichols bequeathed money to build a library for the town—ultimately known as Nichols Library. Nichols left $10,000 to the city "for the purpose of purchasing a suitable lot within the corporate limits of the city and erecting thereon a suitable library building, said building to be used for a public, free reading room and library by the inhabitants of the city." It was to be used for this purpose alone and if diverted to other purposes it was to revert to the estate. The bequest was contingent upon the city council's acceptance of these terms. The City council approved establishing a public library on May 7, 1897.

The architect was Mifflin Emlen (M.E.) Bell. He was the supervising architect for the U.S. Treasury Department and planned the courthouse at Wheaton, IL. He was a member of the Joint Commission to Complete the Washington Monument; his name is engraved on the north face of the monument's capstone. He also oversaw federal buildings at the 1893 World's Columbian Exposition in Chicago.

We, the undersigned, call on the City of Naperville to refrain from any demolition or alteration of the historic Nichols Library Building in Naperville, IL.

We ask that nothing further progress with the proposed redevelopment of the old Nichols Library Building until a more suitable solution can be reached to preserve this historic building. Mayor Chirico and the Naperville City Council: you have the authority to prevent the demolition or alterations of this building, which is an integral piece of the fabric of Naperville. We stand united in hopes that you would provide a forum to facilitate the preservation of this property.
