K. OLD BUSINESS:

L. ORDINANCES AND RESOLUTIONS:

1. Pass the ordinance amending Section 11 of Chapter 1 Title 3 and Section 9 of Chapter 1 Title 3 of the Naperville Municipal Code increasing the Home Rule Sales Tax by .25% and decreasing the Downtown Food and Beverage Tax by the corresponding percentage

SPEAKER

Kaylin Risvold (Naperville Area Chamber of Commerce) is opposed to amending the Home Rule Sales Tax (HRST).

WRITTEN COMMENTS

Marilyn L Schweitzer (Naperville) With recognition of the complexities and unknowns of increasing the HRST versus reinstating the Grocery Tax, please support the proposal on the agenda to increasing the Home Rule Sales Tax by .25% and decreasing the Downtown Food and Beverage Tax by the corresponding percentage. Among the many reasons others have stated pro and con, I believe the HRST offers more choice and flexibility for the consumer and the City to adjust spending due to overall economic fluctuations. I am not one to believe once a tax is put in place that it cannot be removed or altered and appreciate that in this case that we have a choice.

WRITTEN COMMENTS

Carl E VanDril (Naperville) Many of you may remember me as the previous

Co-chair of NEST. While I have not participated in NEST for the last 1 1/2 years, my passion for making the right decision regarding IMEA is just as strong as ever. An extension of our IMEA contract at this time makes no sense. First and foremost, this multi-billion dollar commitment should be competitively bid with criteria set forth by city leaders representing the requirements of the people of Naperville. We have options. Let's explore them. Climate considerations and renewable energy should be considered as part of this evaluation. As this vote comes to you on August 19, vote NO to a contract extension. Vote YES to a well thought out, logical, business focused, and climate friendly process to select a power provider for Naperville past 2035.

Meghan Jebb (Naperville) As a Naperville resident, I ask you to hear the voices of your constituents and vote to oppose extending the IMEA contract. Opposing this contract extension will be a vote in favor of a cleaner, more innovative city of Naperville. Let us be leaders toward a bright future, not hand-cuffed for decades to an organization that puts profits above all else. Through past decades of pollution as well as attempting to strong-arm us into this premature contract renewal, the IMEA has proven itself to be unworthy of Naperville's trust. We can do better. Thank you all for your dedication to our city.

Thomas Coleman (Naperville) The People of Naperville & Climate Reality Chicago Metro - Most of the world looks at costs AND the growing emissions when deciding how to generate electricity and how to power our transportation. For Naperville to be successful and to remain a forward-thinking city, we should not extend the IMEA 1.contract and simply remain with the current contract until it expires in 10 years. I can assure you that over the next few years that the decision to do nothing, for now, is the right decision. In coming years and certainly by 2035, the world will be a renewable and electrified world for homes, businesses, and transportation. Naperville can either support this new world of clean electrification or sign a new IMEA contract in the hope that the IMEA in the next 25 years will somehow do what they have never done before. In the end, the decision Naperville faces is whether it wants to be a city that takes its time to carefully build a clean energy future or an obsolete extractive energy future. It cannot do both.

Sandra Banas, MD (Bolingbrook) Dear Council Members, As a physician practicing in Naperville and a parent of two Naperville 203 CUSD students, I am writing to ask you to reject the IMEA contract extension on August 19th. Climate change is real, and it is here. Extending a coal-based energy contract until 2055 is simply incompatible with that reality. Naperville should be leading the way with clean, renewable energy, not clinging to outdated, polluting sources. We have time to make a smarter, greener choice, and we owe it to future generations. Thank you, Sandra Banas, MD

Pat Berg (Naperville) I oppose the renewal of the IMEA contract. It is ridiculous to lock into such a long term contract. I'm disappointed that the activist politician/councilman josh mcbroom has delivered so much misinformation on this issue. His conduct and comments towards constituents are divisive and impede the working relationships that is necessary for effective governance. Would be nice to have someone sit him down, and show him Naperville's "Code of Conduct", and tell him to stop it and to apologize to Naperville.

Nancy Turner (Naperville) I am against the early renewal of the contract. One reason is the rapid advancement in technology that will most likely make this association obsolete in the not too distant future and make it more and more expensive as other communities withdraw their support. One other important reason is clean air. With the current administration in DC doing the bidding of the polluters, it is incumbent on the citizens of Naperville to protect not only the air we breathe, but the air our neighbors breathe too.

Dina Porro (Naperville) As a longtime resident of Naperville, I've seen how energy decisions affect everything from family budgets to economic growth. That's why I'm reaching out to ask that you vote IN FAVOR to pass the IMEA contract. This isn't just about numbers-it's about trust, stability, and securing a better future for our city. Over the past several weeks, I've reviewed published information, meetings minutes and online discussions. I find it very concerning that the city council is ignoring the recommendations from their hired energy consultant and the Naperville Public Utilities Board. It is absurd that you spend our hard earned tax dollars on an expert and dismiss their recommendation. All the information points to the renewal of the IMEA contract. This decision will shape our city's energy future for decades. Please listen to the voices of those who live and work here-we're COUNTING ON YOU to represent our interests and invest in a reliable, sustainable path forward. Respectfully, Dina Porro Lucy Nobrega (Naperville) Why on Earth is this not going out for competitive bid in a transparent, normal procurement process?

Dianne McGuire (Naperville) We all know what the right thing to do here is...reject this early renewal unequivocally. If you need a few more facts to back up this decision, let's consider the impact of the Prairie State Coal Plant on little Marissa, Illinois, where it is located. Let's talk health disparities, according to the American Lung Association...In DuPage County, with our 921,213 residents, the incidence of adult chronic lung disease is about 1%. In St. Clair County, with its 261,018 residents, where Marissa is located, the incidence of chronic lung disease is 12%. Prairie State may boast about "clean coal" but they emit about 25,000 tons of soot and smog-forming pollutants every year which might explain the health disparities. Let's talk home values while we're at it...In Marissa, home listings look a little like this: $169,000, "as is, where is"; $49,00 sold "as is, no repairs"; 1.$99,000 "selling as is". Zillow's most recent median home price for Naperville is $610,522. Let's not continue to contribute to the harm that climate change represents for little St. Clair County and for the rest of us, as well! Please say no.

Steven Cushman (Naperville) I recommend all City Council members vote to approve agenda item 25-1111 to extend the IMEA contract. Electricity is vital to a functioning city and a core requirement is that it be reliable, affordable and predictable. I've resided in Naperville 38 years and my experience is IMEA, working in conjunction with Naperville Electric, has provided excellent electric service. We all know how electric service disruption is an inconvenience short term but becomes life threatening for some after extended disruptions. Recent agenda items have discussed afford ability for people living in Naperville, and people planning on moving here. Our current system has met the affordability test. The coal plant is a controversial item but China built about 100 new coal plants in calendar 2024. IMEA pledges to be carbon neutral by 2050 and have an excellent past performance record. Finally solar and wind may be the answer but are currently unreliable when the sun is down and the wind ceases. Battery technology may improve the situation but we are not there yet. The current electric market is changing driven by huge AI power needs projected. Winnetka said it very well when they renewed their IMEA contract as they concluded their Council was unwilling to take the significant risk of not doing so.

Sara Meyer (Naperville) Please do not enter a contract with IMEA. Naperville should not be reliant on coal for energy, as it contributes heavily to climate change. Instead, Naperville should explore more eco-friendly methods of electricity generation.

Wendy Schild (Naperville) Continue with IMEA especially for fiscal responsibility.

Marilyn L Schweitzer (Naperville) Please vote no and do not accept the IMEA Contract 2025_08_19 as written. Instead, please under New Business propose amendments to that contract as submitted by Mayor Wehrli in the 8/17 Council Q&A. In addition please include: 1) A date by which IMEA must respond, 2) The City's plan should IMEA not be willing to accept the amendments. I would also like to know: 1) What is the PUAB's minority opinion on this proposal? 2) What is the PUAB's majority opinion on this proposal? 3) Was CES involved in drafting these amendments and if so, what is their opinion of it? My preference for handling this under New Business is that it would allow adequate time for the public to comment, could go before the 8/28/25 PUAB meeting, and come back to City Council on 9/2/2025. My goal is not to delay a matter that has been languishing, but rather to move forward with a firm plan more like suggested by the PUAB minority opinion presentation given at the City Council workshop on July 28th. Thank you for your consideration.
