On Response to Standards – Exhibit B:

Placing a large structure in the backyard, with a fireplace and chimney, would definitely change the essential character of the neighborhood. The original restrictive covenants of the Kathleen Subdivision prohibited placement of fences, which certainly promoted harmony in backyard landscaping between neighbors.

My property is lot 5, adjacent to the proposed structure. The structure is taller than my bordering bushes, and would change the view from my back windows from trees to a roof and chimney.

I am hopeful that my neighbors could plan something smaller and less obtrusive.
