Investment Manager Evaluation Terminology

The following terminology has been developed by Marquette Associates to facilitate efficient communication among the Investment Manager, Investment Consultant, and the Plan Sponsor. Each term signifies a particular status with the Fund and any conditions that may require improvement. In each case, communication is made only after consultation with the Trustees and/or the Investment Committee of the Plan.

In Compliance – The investment manager states it is acting in accordance with the Investment Policy Guidelines.

Alert – The investment manager is notified of a problem in performance (usually related to a benchmark or volatility measure), a change in investment characteristics, an alteration in management style or key investment professionals, and/or any other irregularities.

On Notice – The investment manager is notified of continued concern with one or more Alert issues. Failure to improve upon stated issues within a specific time frame justifies termination.

Termination – The Trustees have decided to terminate the investment manager. The investment manager is notified and transition plans are in place.

Market Update

Benchmark Performance Summary as of March 31, 2019

Overview

Positioning and Rationale

YIELD CURVE ANALYSIS

- Fed and market views converged during the 1st quarter on a number of topics– including the stage of the U.S. expansion and the future path of monetary policy
- Divergence between the Fed and markets still exist, as the latter now pricing rate cuts
- Volatility throughout financial markets calmed as investors welcomed Fed commentary as more globally balanced
- Market expectations are for the ECB to re-engage and extend its stimulus efforts following a string of poor data
- Trade-related rhetoric has softened substantially between U.S. and China, but Brexit progress remains challenged
- Duration construction: The ebb and flow of geopolitical headlines, choppy U.S. data and the maturity of the U.S. expansion are headwinds for higher rates; inversions with negative roll characteristics should be avoided

SECTOR OUTLOOK

- Investment Grade Credit: Likely to remain supported by global policy momentum, but also creates an opportunity to scale back in riskier corridors
- Securitized: With the Fed's balanced sheet persisting into the future, the basis for high quality securitized is likely supported
- "Beta" Sectors: What was a lot of opportunity heading into the first quarter, is a lot more selective starting the second

QUALITY DECISIONS

- Concerns over ratings migration have been mostly overstated, but the recovery in spreads suggest a more neutral stance

SECURITY SELECTION

- New issue premiums continue to underwhelm, suggesting better opportunity in the secondary market
- Sentiment-driven sell-offs still lack differentiation, particularly when reacting to headlines; in cases where reactions exceed what is justified by fundamentals, significant relative value opportunities for nimble capital persist
- In a lower volatility environment, moving higher quality out the curve is a prudent defensive posture should volatility resurface
- Lower quality credit curves can be helpful to create "carry" over Treasury curve inversions

U.S. Economic Outlook

The communication was murky, but the Fed's message is clear

- Market volatility had led to a deterioration in U.S. financial conditions, threatening the U.S. expansion and prompting the Fed to remove up to 125 basis points of forward tightening guidance
- Typical of mature expansions, the dispersion of U.S. economic data has increased with recent readings trending softer
- Though wages and employment data remain firm, underlying inflationary pressures remain tepid

Global Economic Outlook

Synchronized global output appears a distant memory

- Continued “Brexit” headlines introduce further economic uncertainty, the global markets’ attention span towards the matter should awaken
- Weak German data gave the U.S. Fed some reprieve from an about-face on policy, and likely nudge the ECB toward further stimulus sooner rather than later
- While trade-related noise has eased heading into the second quarter, in our view, this story will likely spur volatility as the year progresses

Spread Sector Outlook

Amidst a softening global landscape, risk leads the way

- Even though they were troubled by higher rates one quarter prior, credit markets enthusiastically welcomed the Fed's rapid change in policy stance
- Net supply forecasts continue to provide a favorable backdrop for U.S. spread sectors; new issue concessions across the quality spectrum remain favorable for issuers as new deals are met with robust demand
- Given the compression in credit quality spreads, and the Fed's pause on policy tightening, U.S. agency MBS exhibits renewed attractiveness

Credit Market Outlook

Credit migration has been mischaracterized as a BBB issue

- Ratings do not always provide a clear picture of creditworthiness, as many financials have been downgraded despite carrying their lowest risk profile in decades
- Rising stars, those issuers within one notch of investment grades, outnumber fallen angels nearly 2-to-1
- The notional principal of securities associated with improving credit fundamentals is near the highest on record

Q1 Commentary

During the first quarter, we continued to invest additional funds received in the fourth quarter. This capital was deployed to increase the allocation to corporates and in particularly lower quality investment grade (BBB rated corporates) on the margin. Corporate securities were added to the guidelines recently, while the benchmark remains government only. Given tight spread levels when this change was made, we had been deliberate about allocating to corporates at a measured pace. With the pronounced spread widening seen in the fourth quarter, more attractive opportunities were available as the portfolio progressively added to these sectors as liquidity returned in January and market sentiment improved throughout the quarter.

Overall yields declined in the period as interest rates moved lower and spreads tightened, but the portfolio maintained a healthy 40 basis point yield advantage versus the benchmark.

Q1 2019 Commentary

In the statement following their January meeting, the Federal Reserve signaled a halt to their rate hiking program. Correspondingly, after their March 20th meeting, the Fed altered their projected 2019 rate increases from two to zero. This policy shift propelled Treasury yields lower and provided a powerful support to risk assets. As a result, our modestly short duration position negatively affected performance in the first quarter, as the yield on the 5-yr. Treasury note fell 28 basis points. Conversely, our allocations to the corporate, agency CMBS and MBS sectors provided positive contributions to performance, as those sectors outperformed Treasuries on a duration-neutral basis by 187, 73 and 28 basis points, respectively. In addition, the portfolio also benefitted from our supranational and agency allocations, as those sectors generated 17 and 14 basis points of excess returns, respectively.

- In accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, information is presented on a trade date basis; forward settling purchases are included in the monthly balances, and forward settling sales are excluded.
- Performance is presented in accordance with the CFA Institute's Global Investment Performance Standards (GIPS). Unless otherwise noted, performance is shown gross of fees. - MBS maturities are represented by expected average life.

GLOSSARY

- ACCRUED INTEREST: Interest that is due on a bond or other fixed income security since the last interest payment was made.
- AGENCIES: Federal agency securities and/or Government-sponsored enterprises.
- AMORTIZED COST: The original cost of the principal of the security is adjusted for the amount of the periodic reduction of any discount or premium from the purchase date until the date of the report. Discount or premium with respect to short-term securities (those with less than one year to maturity at time of issuance) is amortized on a straight line basis. Such discount or premium with respect to longer-term securities is amortized using the constant yield basis.
- BANKERS' ACCEPTANCE: A draft or bill or exchange accepted by a bank or trust company. The accepting institution guarantees payment of the bill as well as the insurer.
- COMMERCIAL PAPER: An unsecured obligation issued by a corporation or bank to finance its short-term credit needs, such as accounts receivable and inventory.
- CONTRIBUTION TO DURATION: Represents each sector or maturity range's relative contribution to the overall duration of the portfolio measured as a percentage weighting. Since duration is a key measure of interest rate sensitivity, the contribution to duration measures the relative amount or contribution of that sector or maturity range to the total rate sensitivity of the portfolio.
- DURATION TO WORST: A measure of the sensitivity of a security's price to a change in interest rates, stated in years, computed from cash flows to the maturity date or to the put date, whichever results in the highest yield to the investor.
- EFFECTIVE DURATION: A measure of the sensitivity of a security's price to a change in interest rates, stated in years.
- EFFECTIVE YIELD: The total yield an investor receives in relation to the nominal yield or coupon of a bond. Effective yield takes into account the power of compounding on investment returns, while nominal yield does not.
- FDIC: Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation. A federal agency that insures bank deposits to a specified amount.
- INTEREST RATE: Interest per year divided by principal amount and expressed as a percentage.
- MARKET VALUE: The value that would be received or paid for an investment in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date.
- MATURITY: The date upon which the principal or stated value of an investment becomes due and payable.
- NEGOTIABLE CERTIFICATES OF DEPOSIT: A CD with a very large denomination, usually $1 million or more, that can be traded in secondary markets.
- PAR VALUE: The nominal dollar face amount of a security.

GLOSSARY

- PASS THROUGH SECURITY: A security representing pooled debt obligations that passes income from debtors to its shareholders. The most common type is the mortgage-backed security.
- REPURCHASE AGREEMENTS: A holder of securities sells these securities to an investor with an agreement to repurchase them at a fixed price on a fixed date.
- SETTLE DATE: The date on which the transaction is settled and monies/securities are exchanged. If the settle date of the transaction (i.e., coupon payments and maturity proceeds) occurs on a non-business day, the funds are exchanged on the next business day.
- TRADE DATE: The date on which the transaction occurred; however, the final consummation of the security transaction and payment has not yet taken place.
- UNSETTLED TRADE: A trade which has been executed; however, the final consummation of the security transaction and payment has not yet taken place.
- U.S. TREASURY: The department of the U.S. government that issues Treasury securities.
- YIELD: The rate of return based on the current market value, the annual interest receipts, maturity value, and the time period remaining until maturity, stated as a percentage on an annualized basis.
- YTM AT COST: The yield to maturity at cost is the expected rate of return based on the original cost, the annual interest receipts, maturity value, and the time period from purchase date to maturity, stated as a percentage on an annualized basis.
- YTM AT MARKET: The yield to maturity at market is the rate of return based on the current market value, the annual interest receipts, maturity value, and the time period remaining until maturity, stated as a percentage on an annualized basis.
