Andy Balzar, a developer of Brixmoor Group presented on behalf of Block 59. Ruth Chris and Yardhouse are considering opening in Naperville, however, they are asking for an increase of a single serving size of beer from 24 ounces to 32 ounces and an increase in the serving size of wine from 6 ounces to 9 ounces. Representatives from Brixmoor stated that they are humbly asking for Naperville's support to make the necessary changes to move this project forward.

Andy stating that it is predicted that if Yard House and Ruth Chris were not on board that half of their potential clients/leases would cancel and no longer move forward with this project.

Yard House has 88 locations and Ruth Chris has 134 locations and the developer said that this is the first time the restaurant owners have run into there being a limit on the amount of beer and wine that can be served on a single serving.

Commissioners were not concerned with increasing the serving size of wine, but did bring up several concerns with increasing the serving size of beer from 24 ounces to 32 ounces.

Mayor Wehrli asked while making this consideration for Yard House and Ruth Chris, would this apply to all Class B Licensees to which Jennifer Lutzke

Bonner replied that it would apply to all Class B Licensee holders.

The developer stated that the project is scheduled to take 5 years to complete.

Commissioners wanted to clarify that this is for a 32 ounce draft beer and not a prepackaged container. Andy replied that this request is for a single draft beer.

Wehrli recognized that it is unusual to have the developer instead of the actual licensee come before the Commission to make this request.

Christine Jeffries who is representing Naperville Development Partnership spoke on behalf of the developers adding that all of our sellers and servers are required to attend a Naperville BASSET training class that is specific to Naperville and that they are well trained. Christine stated that they are asking that this request apply to only full service restaurants that have a Class B license.

Commissioners did ask whether we could limit the number of servings and alcohol content, however, Detective Creighton noted that this type of rule would be hard to enforce. Jennifer Lutzke Bonner adding that monitoring alcohol by content is difficult to regulate.

Commissioner Douglas stated that she felt that we needed to learn a little more before making this decision. There are questions that were raised today about the number of servings and alcohol content that the developer was not prepared to answer.

The developer stated that the 32 ounce beer is only 3 - 6 % of their sales. He does not think this will be an issue.

A motion was made by Commissioner Chirico to increase the single serving pour size of wine to 9 ounces, seconded by Commissioner McGury. The motion passed by the following vote:

AYES: Chirico, Douglas, Signorella, McGury, Koranda (5)

NAYS: (0)

A motion was made by Commissioner Chirico to request a Pour Limit increase of beer/cider from 24 to 32 ounces, limited to one serving and be referred to the next City Council meeting, seconded by Koranda.
