CITY OF NAPERVILLE PUBLIC MEETINGS UPDATE:

On Friday, June 12, 2020, an amendment to the Open Meetings Act was signed into law. This new law replaces the gubernatorial executive order concerning the Open Meetings Act and allows public bodies to temporarily conduct meetings remotely during a state of emergency, subject to certain requirements, including a determination by the head of the public body that an in-person meeting is not practical or prudent.

Pursuant to Section 120/7(e) of the Illinois Open Meetings Act, the continuation of the Governor's disaster proclamation, and Mayor Chirico's executive order determining that in-person public meetings are not currently practical or prudent because of the Covid-19 pandemic, we are holding the February 5, 2021 Naper Settlement Museum Board meeting remotely.

D. OLD BUSINESS:

- 1 Receive an update on the water damage in the Pre-Emption House and the Brushstrokes exhibit.

Harriet Pistorio explained that the City's insurance carrier will cover all costs needed to repair the lower level of the Pre-Emption house minus $74,000. However, once the repairs have been completed, staff will be able to approach the insurance company for a reimbursement if the costs end up being more than what was awarded.

- 2 Receive an update on Naper Settlement's virtual field trip programs.

Sack gave background on the distance learning programs that were developed between October and December of 2020. While adapting existing field trips to the digital format, staff also updated the content of a few of the programs, including the Underground Railroad program, which added the story of an actual freedom-seeker from Chicagoland, and the Living History program, which added narratives from the Native Americans who lived in this area. Teachers were involved in the creation of these programs at every step to ensure that they deliver what educators need and want. Sack then introduced Jeanne Schultz-Angel, Director of Learning Experiences and Historical Research.

Schultz-Angel shared a PowerPoint presentation that walked through a summary of how the virtual field trips were built, gave an overview of the programs and background on Night Kitchen Interactive, the vendor that had partnered with Naper Settlement on the digital components. Schultz-Angel acknowledged the staff, subject matter experts and audience evaluators involved with the project. She shared how the programs are laid out in Google

Classroom and explained that the full field trips take multiple hours, with a combination of synchronous and asynchronous activities. She showed examples of some of these activities such as a photo album of Potawatomi materials with writing prompts, 360° interactive photos, and videos showing museum educators and other actors playing roles as part of the programs. She explained that these field trips differ from what other museums are offering -- they are not simply passive tours, but more of a classroom experience that teachers can integrate into existing history curriculum. Sack added that staff intend to nominate these digital programs for a number of awards later in 2021.

Schultz Angel shared that 43 classes have booked programs so far. A few classes have already completed virtual field trips and staff have received great feedback from those teachers.

Mayor Chirico congratulated the staff and shared that he was very impressed with the innovation and creativity behind these programs; he asked how staff thought keeping these digital programs around after the pandemic would affect the site. Sack said that research has shown that people still want to visit physical places like museums after experiencing them online.

3 Receive an update on grants.

Macarena Tamayo-Calabrese gave an overview of the grants that staff applied for in 2020. In total, Naper Settlement received a little over a million dollars in grant awards in 2020. She also summarized the grant programs from previous years that are ongoing. She is still waiting on a decision from the Department of Commerce and Economic Opportunity's Rebuild Illinois program; this grant request is for approximately $750k in funding for Innovation Gateway.

E. NEW BUSINESS:

1 Receive information on a memorial tree for David Wentz.

Harriet Pistorio shared that staff have identified a tree near the Murray House that will be dedicated in Dave Wentz's memory. She and Tamayo-Calabrese have been in touch with Wentz's family and will be organizing a dedication event for the spring.

2 Receive updates on the Naper Settlement PUD and the construction timeline for campus expansion, including the Planning and Zoning Commission's recommendation to City Council

Harriet Pistorio summarized that on January 6, 2021, the Planning and Zoning Commission unanimously approved the variances in Naper Settlement's PUD and made that recommendation to City Council. Council will vote on the PUD at their meeting on 2/16. Once these approvals are in place, staff can begin taking other steps towards construction in hopes of breaking ground in the fall of 2021.

A discussion was had about a few of the public comments that were made at the Planning and Zoning Commission meeting.
