A. CALL TO ORDER:

Chirico called the meeting to order at 6:00 p.m.

B. INTRODUCTION:

Krieger explained that the City's last strategic planning effort took place in 2016, that sustainability and diversity/inclusion have been added since that time and need to be incorporated into business operations, that the workshop is an opportunity for Council to deliberate as a group about priorities, and that Shockey Consulting will facilitate the discussion on trends, data, and initial public input regarding key issues.

C. PUBLIC FORUM:

WRITTEN COMMENT

Marilyn Schweitzer

I'm glad that the Naperville Strategic Plan Power Point Presentation addresses community data and trends. This material and discussion could have occurred prior to developing the community survey. I believe the survey should have been based on the outcome of the discussion of data and trends. Participants then should have had access to the data and trends prior to completing the survey. It would have made the survey more to the point, especially in terms of the some of the oddly worded community vision statements in the existing survey. I don't understand what staff and council intend to do with the current survey results. For example, because the senior-friendly vision was ranked below the top 3 and people with disabilities forgotten, does this mean the strategic plan and its implementation will give their needs a low priority? Will those residents be told, "Sorry, that isn't something our community cares about." I don't think so because I know our City Staff and City Council is caring and will respond. I realize a survey and a resultant plan can't please everyone. I've emailed more of my thoughts about the survey and this evening's presentation to City Council and pertinent City Staff. I hope those thoughts are not statistically insignificant nor off base.

SPEAKER

Catherine Clarkin (Naperville Environment and Sustainability Task Force) requested that the issue of sustainability not be overlooked in the strategic planning process.

D. PRESENTATION:1. Receive the June Strategic Plan update

Shockey consultants Beth Quindry and Tyler Waldorf facilitated the discussion on visioning, trends and data, the community survey, diversity, economy, COVID-19, utilities and infrastructure, public safety, governance, housing choice, health, sustainability, and fielded questions regarding defining a survey's success, retail pull factor methodology, whether multigenerational housing impacts affordable housing, the need to include the most recent crime statistics, and tree coverage comparable cities.

The Council broke out into two small groups to discuss topic details.

Quindry and Waldorf explained that the next step will be to meet with the directors and consolidate all feedback into a report to be presented to Council in July.
